Project Output:

- Enhanced and strengthened peace and harmony among different communities
- Increased household incomes through enhanced access to markets, improved livestock breeds and increased access to capital for income generation activities and livestock marketing

Project Location:

Maralal (Northern Kenya)

Funding partner:

CAFOD

Implementing Agency:

Purpose of the CSA pilot:

- This CS pilot project is not generated or implemented to correct errors in the Integrated Peace and Livelihood project but rather to develop and demonstrate effectiveness of conflict sensitivity or present the added value of conflict sensitivity to the target project.
- This pilot will explore the conflict sensitivity factors that may not have been considered even though the targeting done followed agreed criteria as per project design.
- The pilot is expected to provide relevant information of conflict sensitivity and will guide members to develop conclusions that focus on changes that are only linked to conflict sensitivity but not improving programme quality.
- The pilot will provide the consortium members with advocacy messages that will be used in influencing donors and other stakeholders in adopting CSA practice in their work

Objective of the pilot:

- To generate evidence based conflict sensitive lessons from various phases of pilot implementation
- To identify key interaction indicators from the project through comparative analysis of conflict and project profile/Intervention analysis
- To identify at what stages of the project that conflict blind decision occurs and how this is checked and adapted
- To devise strategies and options of project re-design and adaptation strategy
- To use the pilot lesson as advocacy messages
